UTAH PREHISTORY WEEK

MAY 7 – 15, 2005

Utah Prehistory Week, May 7-15, gives Utahns great opportunities to learn about, explore, and immerse themselves in Utah's unique prehistory. Organizations statewide sponsor creative, fun events appealing to all ages; for instance, the CEU Museum in Price is sponsoring a Fremont feast. Other events include:

- A prehistory open house at the Rio Grande Depot, sponsored by the Division of State History. The event offer kids' activities, demonstrations of ancient skills, displays, tours of the state archaeology lab, and more. May 7, 10 a.m. – 3 p.m., 300 Rio Grande (455 W.), SLC. For information, call 801/533-3564.
- Tours of the Danger and Juke Box caves near Wendover, led by state archaeologists, on May 15. To make reservations, call 801/533-3564.
- A day of activities at Fish Springs National Wildlife Refuge on May 14, including ethnobotany, prehistoric wildlife, Goshute history, and cave tours, with an evening potluck and campfire talks. For information, call 435/831-5353.
- Various events statewide, including archaeology tours, lectures, open house/activity days at museums, family activities at Antelope Island, and much more.

A list of events and more information is at history.utah.gov.
